Reissue Applications

1. Claims 1-37 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 251 as defective reissue. Applicants have cancelled all added claims and as there are no other amendments to the specification or claims this reissue has no errors being corrected. Further the reissue declaration does not identify an error being corrected (the error specified related to the added claims which have been canceled) and is therefore defective. As no error is corrected this reissue is an improper reissue application.

DETAILED ACTION

The amendment after final cancelled claims 38-59. Claims 1-37 are pending in the application and the status of the application is as follows:

Upon further review of the claims, the finality of the rejection of the last office action is withdrawn.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 10-21, and 26-37 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

The following enumerated reasons apply:

1. Claims 10-21 and 26-37 lack clarity for the expression "cellulose pulp a water-soluble non-ionic emulsifier that meets the following emulsion stability standards is used: "

Recourse to the specification does not define the standard. Is the emulsifier added to the cellulose pulp?

2. Claims 14-17, and 30-33 would read better by deleting” inclusive “ after 7-8.
3. Claims 18-21 and 34-37-lack clarity. There is no fatty acid amide in the ethoxylated alkyl phenols.
4. Claims 26-37 lack antecedent basis with respect to “ wherein the process”. The claim 22 is drawn to the product.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. Claims 22-37 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over the combination of U. S. Patents 3,822,178(‘178) and 3,655,400(‘400).

The instant application is claiming a preservative for organic matter comprising” a filtrate of a decomposition resistant hydrous cellulose pulp material

2. Potassium sorbate
3. Citric acid
4. Non-ionic emulsifier

The patent ‘178 teaches process for repulping waxed paper using non-ionic emulsifier where in the paper comprises wax and cellulose as claimed and passing it through very fine filter. See the claims. The difference between the patent and the instant application is that the patent does not disclose adding citric acid to lower the PH and adding potassium sorbate to the product. One of ordinary skill in the art with a scientific knowledge would add a weak acid like citric acid so that PH is 6.5 or lower. The patent ‘400 is cited to show that in order to have shelf or product stability potassium sorbate is added. See col.1, last paragraph.

Art Unit: 1615

Accordingly it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art, at the time the invention was made to prepare the product of '178 and add potassium sorbate and add citric acid. The motivation to add potassium sorbate stems the teachings of patent '400 that this compound prevents mold development and shelf instability. One of ordinary skill in the art having scientific knowledge would add weak acid like citric acid to lower the Ph. One of ordinary skill in the art would have reasonable amount of success by taking the product of '178 and adding potassium sorbate so that the product can be used as a preservative and decomposition resistant product because potassium sorbate when added has the advantage of preventing mold development and shelf instability. This is a prima facie case of obviousness.
